

The Weekend - At the Deli (C0215)

A: Honey, we are all out of wine and cheese. Do you mind running to the deli and picking up a few things?

B: Can't it wait? I'm watching the game right now!

A: Your friends and family are coming over tonight and we still need to get a lot of things.

B: Fine! What do you need?

A: Ok, pick up some cured meats to go with the wine. Maybe a pound of polish sausages, ham, liver-wurst, salami and any other cold cuts that are on sale. I think I saw a promotion for pastrami. Also get some cole slaw and a jar of olives.

B: Whoa wait a minute! Isn't that a bit too much? I mean, how much is all of this going to cost!

A: Never mind that. Get some dips as well. Get a jar of spinach and blue cheese dip and also some Tzatziki. If they have bean dip get that as well. Last but not least, get some pickles.

B: Is that all, your majesty?

A: Very funny! Get a move on! People will be here any minute.

Key Vocabulary

out of	Preposition	lack
pick up	principle verb, indicative	to choose and buy promotion	common noun, singular	something done to make people aware of a product
never mind	phrase	don't take what you just said into consideration
last but not least	Conjunction	in addition to all the foregoing
deli	common noun, singular	a shop selling ready-to-eat food products

Supplementary Vocabulary

Demand	principle verb, present simple	To aggressively give orders
--------	---------------------------------------	-----------------------------

Distraction	common noun, singular	To lose focus
Inconvenient	Adjective	Have bad timing
Decieving	Adjective	To not be truthful
Expenses	common noun, plural	To be aware of the spending or saving money